

Mr. Powell, I believe the amount of violence and sexually explicit material shown now days on regular tv and cable is outrageous and yes, damaging for children. As a parent I want to have control on what my children watch on tv and what values to teach them. In our modern era the tv has become a "nanny" for our children and hollywood dictates what is appropriate for kids to watch on tv, and believe me what hollywood thinks is appropriate and what we teach our kids are totally opposite. Kids brains are like a computer what goes in comes out. And we wonder why we have such violent and bizzare social problems in our communities and schools. Violence is up in schools, rape, drugs, murder, disrespect for others,etc. I oppose liberal, violent, and sexually explicit programming and we, as parents should have control on what is being watched on tv in the confort and privacy of our home. Thank you.
